Yay! I'm going to swim a lot during the holiday!

I understand, Dad. We must keep the vehicle's speed within the safest range according to the road conditions.

Speeding is not a game; as speed increases, even a tiny mistake can turn into a major accident.

When a car goes fast, it becomes much harder to stop, and we might not notice obstacles in time.

The safe way is to drive at the most appropriate speed according to the road and weather conditions.

If it feels like you are going too fast, warn the adult by politely saying: "Please, let's slow down."
