My Safe Road Companion! What do the lines on the ground mean?

These yellow tactile paths are the compass for our visually impaired friends!

ROADSAFETYCULTURES

They always have priority; we can use the stairs!

This elevator is a hero for wheelchair users.

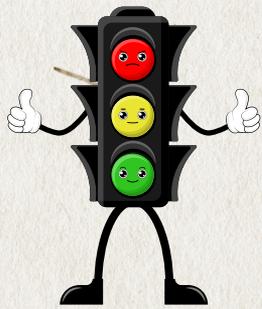

Why is there this sloped path next to the stairs?

This is a ramp! It removes barriers and makes the entrance easy for everyone

Yes, we should never park here. We must respect them!

Did you see the blue sign? This is only for disabled drivers.
